Beckham Tells Democrats To Do Their Duty Tuesday

Enormous Crowd Hears U. S. Senator Speak Here Monday For Gov. Black and Ticket

The county court room, its aisles, windows and every conceivable space into which a body could crowd was insufficient to accommodate the hundreds who sought entrance this afternoon to hear Senator J. C. W. Beckham and Hon. William H. Shanks speak for the Democratic ticket.

Not in many campaigns has there been such a large, enthusiastic or representative audience to hear a political speaker in Madison county. The voters and especially the democrats are interested in this election, and unless all signs go to the contrary, old Madison is going to turn out an enormous democratic vote tomorrow for Uncle Jim Black and the ticket he heads.

Judge W. R. Shackelford introduced Senator Beckham with a rattling little talk that brought forth cheers. The Big Judge said that Ed Morrow has been running against everybody except Gov. Black. First he started running against Stanley; then Tom Rhea, then Mat Cohen; within the past several days he has been running against that fellow Armstrong and Henry Hines, and according to the infamous circular which is being circulated asking the striking miners to vote against Gov. Black because President Wilson has called the strike unnecessary and illegal—it appears that Morrow is now running against President Wilson.

Senator Beckham was given a most cordial greeting by the host of friends he has here in Madison, and his every word received the closest attention.

The senator told how he had left Washington in this very important time to speak in behalf of the excellent ticket representing the Democratic party. He reminded his hearers that if the Democratic party should fail to elect its ticket it would be due to Democrats failing to go to the polls and that it would cause discouragement, if not dismay, to the Democracy throughout the nation.

The great record made during the war was reviewed showing how under the most trying circumstances more than two million men were raised, trained, equipped and transported across the ocean in 18 months and our navy cooperating with the British cleared the sea of the hostile craft and forced the magnificent German fleet to humiliating surrender and that this wonderful record was accomplished under a Democratic administration. He told the harping critics would you forget these wonderful achievements and remember only incidental discomforts.

He reminded his audience how the Republicans in the seven months they have been in control of Congress have failed to carry out a single one of their promises but have wasted much of the time in discussing the Treaty of Peace and the League of Nations embarrassing and injuring our industries and our commerce by needless delay.

He said that many of the leading republicans in the past have advocated a League of Nations but when this league, the result of the work of the best minds of civilized nations, came to the Senate, presented by a Democratic president, many of the leaders reserved their former positions and sought to tear it to pieces by criticism and objections and that their hostility and bitterness lead many to suspect that the opposition is due to the fact that it was in large part the work of a Democratic president. He reminded his hearers that while Mr. Morrow had said it was not an issue in this campaign that the Republican Senators had made it such and that if the Republicans should win they would herald it that Kentucky a Democratic State had expressed disapproval of the league and repudiated the President, that the election of a Republican in the 9th district in cans criticizing and calling attention to some occasional error or misfortune, you might remind them that, after all, this administration, in eighteen months after we entered the war, had raised, trained, equipped and transported across the ocean an army of more than 2,000,000 men, so strong, so powerful and so valiant that it broke the power of Germany and shattered its dreams of universal dominion.

"You might remind them that the American navy cleared the seas of hostile submarines and forced the magnificent German fleet to a humiliating surrender.

Congress has now been in session seven months and that party has been responsible for legislation in it. I challenge any Republican to show a single measure of relief, reform or advantage passed by it in all these months.

"Practically all the time has been consumed and much of it wasted in the Senate by discussions of the Treaty of Peace and the League of Nations.

"The President and his party have done everything possible to hasten action upon the treaty in order that the industries of the country might completely readjust themselves to normal conditions, and Congress and the people might give their attention to the many serious and grave problems in our economic affairs.

"The Republican leadership in Congress has proved its utter inability or unwillingness to direct the legislation of the country in a way to help the disturbed conditions which now exist.

"While strikes and riots prevail throughout the country, they have spent most of their time in the Senate in discussing the Shantung question.

"It is most unfortunate that this League of Nations has been made a party issue. Many of them in the past have advocated a League of Nations, and on numerous occasions have expressed their views in favor of such a plan.

"But when the league, the result of many months of work by the best minds of civilized nations, comes to the Senate presented by a Democratic President, some of these leaders have reversed their former position with their criticism and objection."

Judge Shackelford made another short talk when Senator Beckham had concluded, and plead with every Madison county democrat to do his duty tomorrow.

He introduced that grand old war horse, Hon. W. B. Smith, who also plead with old Madison to show her true colors tomorrow. Mr. Smith introduced Hon. W. H. Shanks, the democratic nominee for Lieutenant Governor. He pointed out that Mr. Shanks had the good sense to come to Madison for his wife, and he felt sure that when he got to Frankfort, if he was tempted to do anything he shouldn't that his good Madison county wife would keep him straight.

Mr. Shanks then took the floor, and made a strong argument for the election of the democratic ticket. He discussed state issues at length. He said that whenever he had been found no sign of a democrat who is not supporting his party nominees this year, and he predicted an overwhelming victory tomorrow if every democrat does his duty.

Army Officer In Bad

Chicago, Nov. 3—A warrant for the arrest of Francis T. A. Jukin, of Chicago, appointed a month ago a member of the contract board in Washington with the rank of Lieutenant Colonel in the regular army, was issued here today on a charge of falsely labeling liquor shipments.

Red Cross Drive Starts Well

Washington, Nov. 3—Early reports to national headquarters here show the third annual roll of the American Red Cross got away today to a flying start with more than 100,000 volunteer workers enrolling members.

MORE HOPEFUL VIEW OF STRIKE SITUATION

(By Associated Press)

Washington, Nov. 3—Labor officials declined today to discuss the reports that President Gompers, of the American Federation of Labor, suggested a way of settling the coal strike. In some circles, however, there is a more hopeful view of the situation.

Non-union mines in Pennsylvania and West Virginia are reported working full time today.

At some points the miners are to increase the normal day's production. The first reports from the central competitive fields in Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, and Western Pennsylvania, showed all union miners out. One of the first effects of the strike has been the curtailment of passenger trains on some railroads. Regional Railroad Directors have been given discretionary powers in this connection but freight service is not to be disturbed unless the coal shortage becomes serious.

DEMOCRATS PROPOSE VOTE THIS WEEK

(By Associated Press)

Washington, Nov. 3—A final vote this week on ratification of the peace treaty is proposed in a unanimous consent drawn up for presentation to the Senate today by administration leaders. Apparently contemplating the possibility of a deadlock over reservations, the agreement provides that after this week the treaty if not ratified, can be laid aside.

PALMER TELLS UNIONS LAW WILL BE ENFORCED

Washington, Nov. 3—Bulletin

—Attorney General Palmer informed the coal miners who protested against the strike injunction that the government stood ready to "do everything in its power to facilitate an inquiry into the merits of the controversy but meanwhile the law must be enforced and combinations to stop production cannot be tolerated.

Palmer's statement was made in reply to a telegram from an Ohio local union to President Wilson and is taken to indicate no attempt will be made by the government to settle the wage controversy until the strike is called off and that continued pressure is being brought to bear on officials of the United Mine Workers of America to call the strike off.

It became known today that President Gompers of the American Federation of Labor informed John Lewis, President of the miners' union, of the government's attitude and that Warren Stone, chief of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, has been in communication with Lewis over the long distance telephone.

Drummer Confident

Gov. Black Will Win

J. E. March, the well known drummer of Lexington, who is in town today, says that he is absolutely confident of the election of Black and the entire state democratic ticket tomorrow. Mr. March travels through 11 counties, and he says he never saw the democrats so united and determined to go to the polls in a mass. He says that even up in the mountains he hears of many republicans who are going to vote for Uncle Jim Black.

STRIKE SITUATION MAY CLEAR UP TODAY

Chicago, Nov. 3—Developments today in the strike of 400,000 soft coal miners throughout the country are expected to clarify the situation to extent of determining whether production will be stopped indefinitely in a large part of the bituminous zone or whether any considerable number of workers are willing to return to work.

No plans have been made to reopen the mines with imported labor. Reports from most mining centers indicated the operators did not expect many union men to re-enter the works today.

There are no reports of lawlessness from any mining fields.

The first arrest is reported from Colorado where a Bulgarian miner is charged with threatening to burn mines in the Walsenberg district.

BLACK SURE WINNER

Says Louisville Post Man Who Has Been Over State

The political correspondent of the Louisville Post, who has traveled all over the state, says without qualifications that he looks for Gov. Black to win tomorrow, without the shadow of a doubt. He gives some of his reasons as follows:

This firmer conviction is based on what he has seen and heard relating to greater interest in the election by the bulk of the Democratic voters, increased determination of Democratic workers to get out a full vote, which bears to him. Democratic success depends, and ineffectual of Republican speakers at "converting" Democrats.

He has found no reason for fearing that Edwin P. Morrow, the Republican gubernatorial candidate, has won over by his speeches enough Democrats to assure his election, and he feels that Morrow's only chance is for the Republicans to poll their vote, which they undoubtedly will do, coupled with failure of the Democratic workers to get all the Democrats to the polls.

There are many indications that Morrow has made a great error in failing to declare for or against ratification of the peace treaty and the League of Nations covenant.

There is no mistaking the temper of the people who applaud instantly and most heartily every statement that Gov. Black makes in his addresses for ratification or calling attention to Morrow's failure to answer his challenge to come "out in the open" either for or against the league.

In these audiences are former soldiers, who have had enough of war, and among whom Morrow's circular letter plea for votes cannot possibly make headway, as the natural inference for them is that Morrow is against the league as proposed by Woodrow Wilson in the effort to end a war.

While Morrow is entertaining his audiences with allusions to amusing things in Heiser's physiology, he is giving them opportunity to ignore the fact that it was the present Textbook Commission that excluded this book from the schools after it was reassembled by Governor Black.

Plain evidence that propaganda is being spread to convey the impression that use of this textbook and the Grinstead speller, called "Nonesuch" by Morrow, has been ordered, has been uncovered.

At Campbellsville, for instance, R. G. Graves, an educator, read to an audience that heard Governor Black, a list of the books adopted by the commission, after stating that it was rumored in Taylor county that the books ridiculed were a part of the list.

Governor Black will receive a fine vote from railroad men and miners, in addition to persons in other lines of work.

This statement is based on information of a most reliable character from railroad men and miners in a position to know.

As the campaign advances he is gaining strength in every part of the State.

MORROW LINES UP WITH STRIKING MINERS

Circular Urges Votes For Morrow By Strikers, Since Wilson Branded Strike as Unlawful

Nothing has created as much indignation among law-abiding and fair-minded citizens, without regard to politics as the circular which is being circulated, urging these striking miners of Kentucky to vote for Ed Morrow because President Wilson has branded the miners' strike now as unlawful and as threatening great disaster to the people of the country. The Lexington Herald Monday morning reproduced a fac-simile of the circular, and it says:

The incendiary, reproduced in facsimile on this page has been extensively circulated, according to information reaching Lexington, among the miners of Bell county in support of the Morrow candidacy for Governor.

No doubt, the circular has been scattered through other coal mining regions of Kentucky, where those laborers affiliated with the United Mine Workers are now participating in the strike which has been branded by President Wilson as "not only unjustifiable, but unlawful."

Democratic headquarters in Louisville last night said they had been advised of the distribution of the circular. There was general opinion at headquarters that this action, unless it is repudiated by Morrow and his managers, aligns the Republican party in this State with the coal strikers, in support of the strike which is branded as unjustifiable and unlawful.

The circular shows that Mr. Morrow's supporters in Bell county claim him as a supporter and defender of the unjustifiable and unlawful coal strike.

They ask the miners to vote against Black because they believe Black would support the efforts of the Federal government to maintain the fuel supply and thus save the nation from distress and disaster.

Is Mr. Morrow the sort of friend of the working man and of the public he is described to be in this circular?

Does Mr. Morrow approve the vicious and incendiary denunciation of the President of the United States and the processes of the law?

Is Mr. Morrow for or against the Federal government in its course with relation to the coal strike?

Does Mr. Morrow believe the coal strike either lawful or justifiable?

Will he knowingly accept the support sought for him in this circular and thus acknowledge his subserviency to a spirit of lawlessness and intolerance?

Mr. Morrow is as dumb as an oyster respecting the great national and international issue, the ratification of the peace treaty. But he accepted the support of those who stand ready to hail his election as a repudiation of the treaty by the people of Kentucky.

He stands branded as a moral coward, as a time-serving vote-seeking political trimmer, by his attitude on this issue.

His supporters in Bell county have precipitated a new and much graver issue because it more directly concerns the business and the hearthstone of a large proportion of the people of Kentucky.

Will Mr. Morrow permit himself to be branded a second time as a moral coward?

Will he stand dumb in the face of the vociferous incendiary of Bell county supporters?

400 Non-Union Miners Are Working In West Virginia

Charleston, W. Va., Nov. 3—More than 400 non-union miners are operating today in West Virginia, according to advices to the West Virginia Coal Association. A program for increased production has been initiated. The recently organized Kanawha Valley region, however, remained shut down.

Claim Non-Union Miners Quit

Knoxville, Tenn., Nov. 3—Union leaders today estimated 2,000 non-union miners joined the 20,000 men on strike in Tennessee and Kentucky coal fields. Only one large mine, that at Harlan, is reported in operation.

Out For a Big

Majority In Madison

The outstanding peril of the state Prohibition Amendment is in the restless over-confidence of those who anxiously desire the adoption of the Amendment. Some people are so absolutely certain that they are doing little or nothing to secure votes for the Amendment.

The result cannot be known before the election, but it is quite possible that the wet cities of the State may give a big majority against the Prohibition Amendment; if they should, the remainder of the State must overcome that wet majority. It is therefore imperative that every dry county shall do its utmost to overcome this possible wet majority of the wet counties.

If, however we were absolutely certain that the amendment would be adopted without making a strenuous campaign, it will be worth every added effort we can possibly make to increase the dry majority. To win the amendment by a small majority would encourage every "blind tiger" and "bootlegger" in the State. To win in a big majority would sound their death knell.

Assuming that the amendment will win without a strenuous campaign in any county or in the entire State, it will be a tremendous advantage to that county in the effort to enforce prohibition, if the amendment shall have been adopted by a majority of seventy-five or a hundred thousand.

It would be little less than a calamity if the dry majority of the remainder of the State should be overcome or should even be reduced to a few thousand majority by wet majorities in the cities of Louisville, Covington, Newport, Ashland, Lexington, Frankfort, Lebanon, Bardstown, Owensboro, Henderson and Paducah.

Nothing will go so far toward strengthening the efforts to enforce the prohibition amendment as to adopt that amendment by a majority of seventy-five or a hundred thousand. The liquor interests will accept such a majority as final and will "throw up their hands" and surrender. Do not be content with less than the greatest possible majority for the State as a whole, and if possible a majority in every county of the State.

The future of the enforcement of prohibition in any county now wet will be strengthened for all time, if that county can give a majority for the Prohibition Amendments on November fourth. Let nobody do less than his best—His Very Best.

Democracy

On Friday last there were possibly more happy fathers and mothers and more bright faced girls and boys in Richmond than ever before in the history of our beautiful little city. As I watched them from my office window this thought came to my mind: who or what brought all of this about? I realized that our school system made it possible for each one of those and boys, to go step by step from the one room school house to the State University, well equipped for a life of useful service to the state and nation.

The further natural inquiry was: who did this, whose brain conceived the idea, and threw the thought into form, and made it a living working existence in our midst?

My mind went back to days past, and I saw a boy, poorly but neatly clad, timid and backward, but the soul of honor, I saw that boy with weed blade in hand on Saturdays and during vacation trimming the flowers in the fields and pastures, for small compensation that he might aid a widowed mother in rearing a dependent family.

I saw this same boy work hard to acquire an education. I saw him finally receive from Central University a diploma. I saw him start on his life work. I saw him rise to the top of his profession. I saw men trust him and place him at the head of one of strongest financial institutions in our city. I saw our people recognize his ability and send him to the legislative halls of our state.

I saw this same boy, who had labored so long and hard to fit himself for his life's work, now that he was a legislator trying to remove the obstructions that had hindered him in youth, and it possible make it easier for the youths of Kentucky to acquire an education.

Almost by his single effort the present school law of our state was framed. The formation was no easy task. Many hours and days were required, but it was finally finished and offered and he who did the work with a great brain, realized that it had been accomplished at a loss of health that has not to this day been restored.

The work of that boy, now a broken man, brought about as I verily believe for the youths of Kentucky, will one day come to his own.

The youth of this state will not allow his name to be forgotten. I believe the day will come when the people of this state will say that the one who has done such a work for us must live not only in our grateful memories but that there must be erected to him a monument in stone that will be raised by all the people when engaged in just such display as I now watch from my office window.

Such is the work of Democracy. There was no praise for one born great, or monument erected to commemorate his noble deeds and self-sacrifice for others until democracy made it possible for a noble spirit to labor and sacrifice for others.

Prohibition In Michigan

Houghton, Mich., Nov. 1.—No

criminal cases have been reported for the November term of circuit court for Houghton county. This is cited as evidence that crime is lessening in the Copper Country, a condition attributed by many to the prohibition law. The greatest number of cases tried during the past year for violations of the prohibition law, but there have been no new cases since the September term of court, which is taken as an indication that the new law is being enforced.

For the adoption of the PROHIBITION AMENDMENT because it is for the benefit of Kentucky. Think National Prohibition effective January 16, 1920 has been adopted. Praise Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as the Greatest Remedy for Woman's Ills.

New Haven, Conn.—"For two years I suffered with a female weakness, pains in my back and painful periods, and I was so weak and tired that I was not able to do my work. A friend told me to use Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it gave me great relief. My pains left me and I am now able to do my work and feel fine. You can publish my testimonial if you like. The compound does others as much good as it has me. I will be very much pleased."

Mrs. CHARLES E. MORGAN, 37 See Street, New Haven, Conn.

The reason Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is so successful is because it contains the curative, strengthening properties of good old fashioned roots and herbs, which act directly on the female organism.

There are women everywhere who long for children in their homes yet are denied this happiness on account of some functional disorder which in most cases would readily yield to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Such women should not give up hope until they have given this wonderful medicine a trial, and for special advice write Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass. The result of 40 years' experience is at your service.

Hallowe'en Party

The most attractive event of Hallowe'en Week was the party which Richard J. McKee, Jr., gave to a host of his young friends Hallowe'en Eve. The delightful affair was staged at the skating rink, which was gaily and beautifully decorated, with pumpkin heads, corn shocks, and colored lanterns, making a perfect Hallowe'en setting for the evening. Most of the young guests came in costume, and made a fantastic and weird picture as they gathered, with masks and vari-colored costumes. Games were played, and a fortune teller ensconced in a den did a rushing business and had the little folks big-eyed with wonder at her powers of divination and prophecy. A violin, made gal music, and entertainers kept everyone jolly and happy until supper was served at long tables, which groaned under the weight of good things. The youngsters had the time of their lives and all left with regret that such a delightful evening was over, and vowed young Mr. McKee, a most delightful host. There were over 90 young gentlemen and ladies included in the invitation.

DRY AMENDMENT
HELD IN DANGERStatewide Prohibition Man Says
Judge's Decision at Louisville
Has Encouraged Liquorites

That there is danger of the defeat of the state-wide prohibition amendment and that the decision of Judge Walter Evans of the Federal Court at Louisville, granting an injunction against the revenue collector to the distilling interests to permit them to take their liquor out of bond and holding the war-time prohibition act invalid, has put new heart in the liquor people is the statement made by J. Sherman Porter, publicity director of the Statewide Prohibition Federation.

"The liquor people have taken on a new lease of life," said Mr. Porter, "since Judge Evans decided the war-time prohibition act was invalid. It has given them hope that they may succeed in upsetting the national prohibition amendment and that they will make a fight against the state amendment in Kentucky next Tuesday certain. Unless the dry voters go to the polls, especially in the cities of the state, the state amendment is in danger of defeat. If the dry men do turn out, the amendment will go over, for experience with war-time prohibition has demonstrated to the business and manufacturing interests the value of prohibition from an economic standpoint."

RECITAL AT CALDWELL

The second effort in the campaign for a school library at Caldwell and at Madison will be made on Wednesday evening, Nov. 5th, when Hortense Nielson will give an evening's program of dramatic impersonation at the Caldwell auditorium. Hortense Nielson is a dramatic reader of national fame. She is a sister of Alice Nielson, the grand opera singer, who appeared at the Chautauqua here not long ago. It is the highest form of dramatic art to be able to portray all the characters in a drama. We consider Jefferson, Booth, Irving and Southern as masters, yet they played only one part. To run the entire gauntlet of the human emotions by playing all the roles of a drama is real art. To shift from the hero to the villain, from the scholar to the unsophisticated one, from the knight to the rustic swan is genius. Hortense Nielson is the one who does this. She appears in Shakespeare, Ibsen, Jones, Maeterlinck, Ella Wheeler Wilcox, and Euripides. She will probably give Henrik Ibsen's "A Doll's House" here on Wednesday. The admission will be only 25 cents. The time is Wednesday, Nov. 5th, at 8 p.m. The place is the Caldwell Auditorium.

The Wallace Hotel at Irvine burned to the ground Sunday afternoon, according to news brought from the still smoldering Monday morning by visitors to court day. The building was a large, two-story frame affair, and it went quickly after the flames gained headway. According to the best information the fire caught from a stove in the cook's room at the rear on the second floor. It seems that she had gone to her room and made a fire and then left to go to the river to watch the high waters, which were sweepin by the town, and causing much excitement. It is believed that fire fell from the stove and started the conflagration. The hotel was owned and operated by Miss Lou Wallace, cousin of C. C. Wallace of this city. The building was valued at about $10,000.

The total loss of the hotel and furnishings is estimated at fully $15,000. It is understood that insurance carried on the hotel and furniture amounted to $8,000.
